Summer Explorations

at

A Child's University

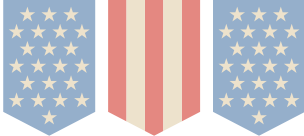

The summer program at A Child's University features a collection of themed weeks that introduce the children to new experiences and subject matter that reinforces the content learned throughout the year in the September-June curriculum. To make the summer months even more special for the children, this summer we will be enhancing our summer program with music, art, and multicultural learning. Exposing children to music and art during their early development years allows them to be creative while fostering self-esteem, building confidence, developing listening and math skills, and so much more. We are very excited about this summer program and look forward to seeing your children learn, explore, and have fun with their friends this summer.
